HOW DO WE COMB

- Naively we can just average .. Why not ?

- Because the datasets are correlated within themselves, so you take a less conservative approach because assume more knowledge on the data.

- You also treat the statistical correlations wrong.

- Where do the big differences come from between KNTW and DHMZ ?

- How they treat the systematic and statistical correlation but specifically the statistical uncertainties.